LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, NOVEMBER 15, 2007...The men of the Alpha Tau Chapter of Beta Theta Pi held their eleventh annual Beta Burrito Bash Thursday evening. Each year, the fraternity holds this event to benefit charities throughout Lincoln.

This year's philanthropy hit close to home for the men of Alpha Tau. The taco feed was used to benefit the Alpha Tau Chapter cook, Faith Jensen. Faith has recently encountered large medical expenses and hardships as she cares for her daughter. This year's Burrito Bash was an overwhelming success with over five hundred parents, alumni, students, faculty and staff coming through the doors of the Alpha Tau Chapter House. The chapter was able to help Faith in a time of need by raising nearly 4,500 dollars. "I am impressed with the large turnout and proud of how the brothers have come together for such a worthy cause." said chapter president Kenton Moore when asked to comment on the event.

Aside from outstanding academic achievement, Alpha Tau prides itself on its high level of community involvement. To learn more about the Alpha Tau chapter, visit beta.unl.edu.
